Gold gone, education keeps KGF shining

With KGF Chapter 2 emerging as a major box-office hit, having raked in over ₹1,000 crore since its April 14 release, film buffs have been celebrating its success across the world wherever it has been screened. But little is known about the real KGF (Kolar Gold Fields) which reels under deficiencies despite the vast potential the region offers to take it back to its days of glory, albeit in a different role. The New Sunday Express, in a three-part series, looks at what is wrong with the town and what can be done to utilise the potential offered by KGF.

GROUND ZERO KGF PART I

RID of any industry worth the name right in Bengaluru's backyard, Kolar Gold Fields (KGF), internationally famous now with the box-office hit KGF Chapter 2, has seen its population driving their children to higher education, so they can get lucrative jobs elsewhere.

Sixty-five-year-old V Palani, who once worked as a labourer at Bharat Gold Mines Ltd (BGML), which closed down in 2001, has two sons and a daughter, and all three of them are double-graduates, now working with private firms in Bengaluru. All three have to travel 100 km to Bengaluru to their workplaces from KGF—also known as "Little England"—and it's a daily affair. "We neither have farm lands nor money to invest in any business. We do not have any ancestral property, although we worked in the gold mines. All that we did was to give education to our children, make them self-reliant," explains Palani, who points to his region which offers next to nothing for sustenance. P5

Non-performance of executive leads to glut of litigation, says CJI; court matters must be in language understood by common man: PM

Do not cross the Lakshman Rekha, says CJI Ramana

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Constitution provides separation of power among the three organs of the State—the legislature, the executive and the judiciary—and one should be mindful of the Lakshman Rekha while discharging duty, Chief Justice of India N V Ramana said on Saturday. Speaking at a joint conference of chief ministers and chief justices here on Saturday, the CJI said the judiciary will not come in the way of governance. However, when the executive fails to perform its duty effectively and the legislature does not realise its full potential, litigation will arise adding to courts' burden.

While policy making is not the judiciary's domain, courts can't say no if a citizen comes with a prayer to address his grievance, the CJI said. In many cases, it is the sheer ambiguity in legislation that causes litigation. "If the legislature passes a law with clarity of thought, foresight and with people's welfare in mind, the scope for litigation gets minimised," he added.

Justice Ramana noted there is "deliberate inaction by governments despite judicial pronouncements". Courts' workload increases when contempt petitions come up before them due to non-implementation of court decisions by governments. Clarifying his recent comments about passing laws without much legislative scrutiny, he said some quarters had misunderstood his remarks. He added that he has the highest regard for the legislature and elected representatives.

On the spike in frivolous litigations, he lamented that the concept of PIL at times becomes 'personal interest litigation'. "PIL has become a tool for those who want to settle political scores or corporate rivalry," he said.

Local languages should be used in courts: PM Modi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AMID the debate over the prospects of Hindi as the language of communication among states, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday made a strong pitch for using local languages in courts. This single step will make the common man feel connected to the justice delivery system of the country, the PM said.

"The proceedings of high courts and the Supreme Court are in English. A large population finds it difficult to understand. We need to make the system simpler," Modi said at the joint conference of CMs and chief justices. By promoting local languages in courts, people's right to judicial process can also be strengthened, he said. Even technical and medical education can be imparted in Hindi and local languages, so why not court matters, Modi asked.

He noted that judicial reforms have never been merely a policy matter, adding that redundant laws must be scrapped. In 2015, the government identified 1,800 obsolete laws, of which 1,450 Central laws were repealed but states abolished only 75, Modi said urging the CMs to scrap them.

On undertrials languishing in jails, he said most of them are poor. "I would appeal to all chief ministers and HC chief justices to give priority to these matters on the basis of humanitarian sensibility and law," he added.

Later, addressing a joint press conference along with Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju, CJI N V Ramana said reforms like changing court language can't be implemented in a hurry due to practical difficulties. "The chief justice will always be from outside. Senior-most judges sometimes are also from outside," he noted.

THE GREEN CYCLE

The windfall of seeds doesn't go waste at the Siddaganga Institute of Technology -- students sweep them up and hand them over to the forest department

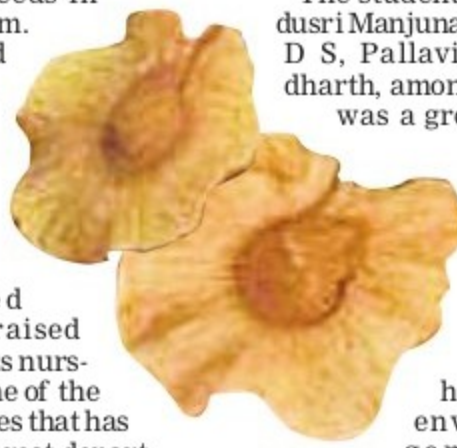

Information Science Engineering students from the Siddaganga Institute of Technology collect seeds in a bag! EXPRESS

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Tumakuru

HEY came with dreams of coding and getting jobs in hot-shot software firms, and have now found themselves a pet project that has little to do with engineering: collecting seeds that have fallen off trees on the college campus. Over a span of three years, as many as 180 students of the Information Science Engineering department of Siddaganga Institute of Technology (SIT) have collected over 15 lakh seeds -- it's their contribution to keeping the planet green. When the All India Council of Technical Education (AICTE) made it mandatory for every BE student to engage in 400 hours of social activity of their choice, which earns them 100 points to get their graduation degree, these students chose the environmental initiative. They took up the Sri Shikumar Swamiji Biodiversity Park near Basadi Betta, or Mandaragiri, where they cleaned and fenced saplings to protect them. Working closely with trees and ecology, they realised how difficult it is to raise saplings into strong trees, and gradually developed a fascination for the environment. Their guide Dr M S Rudramurthy, who would visit nurseries to get saplings to be planted at the biodiversity park, got an idea -- having witnessed the windfall of seeds from over 1,500 trees on their own campus, spread across 57 acres, he wondered if they could be regenerated. He tossed the idea of collecting seeds to then Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Girish H C in 2019, and they chalked out a plan. The students, enthusiastic about this new mission, started collecting seeds amid breaks due to the Covid-19 pandemic. They managed to collect over 50 bags of seeds of a variety of trees, including 'honge' (Indian beech),

'mathi' (Indian laurel), 'honne' (pterocarpus marsupium), teak, mahogany, among others. Each bag weighed 30kg, with over 1,000 seeds in each kilogram. As and when collected, the seeds were transferred to the forest department, which processed them and raised saplings in its nurseries. "It's one of the best initiatives that has helped the forest department, which is on a mission to improve green cover up to 10 per cent, from the present 8.5 per cent in the district," Girish said, adding that the department will welcome any groups

If the students are engaged in environmental activity, their learning ability will be high in all aspects. As long as they wish to continue with collection of seeds on campus, the mission will go on. We will also abide by the 'One student, One tree campaign' supplying seeds. "I would like to continue to work for the environment despite choosing a career in software. I would love to work with an NGO in the field of environment, if it offers a software job," remarked Manan Raj, a student from Bihar.

"It was good to soil our hands for the sake of the environment. It was good fun collecting bagfuls of seeds," said Saijal Shankar, another student.

"We learned many things like team spirit, apart from doing something for the environment. We also got knowledge of good quality seeds while segregating them," Rajkamal Singh, VI semester student, said.

The students -- Komal, Hindusri Manjunath Hegde, Nikhil D S, Pallavi Kiran U, Sidharth, among others -- felt it was a great opportunity which they will remember throughout their life. What brings joy is that the seeds they have collected might help protect the environment for generations to come.

"If the students are engaged in environmental activity, their learning ability will be high in all aspects. As long as they wish to continue with collection of seeds on campus, the mission will go on. We will also abide by the 'One student, One tree campaign'," said Dr M S Rudramurthy, associate professor.

He also helped the students imbibe the essence of environmental protection and climate change.

"The seed collection programme is our exclusive innovative idea, and the model demonstrates how students can contribute to the environment and chip in for the forest department," said Dr Dinesh, principal.

They worked under the tutelage of faculty members Dr Purohit Shrinivasacharya, Dr Sushma S A and Dr Jagadamba G, besides Dr Rudramurthy.

Good news! Long-billed vulture hatchling all set to fly

BOSKY KHANNA @ Ramadevarabetta

WHEN it was thought that all hope was lost and all efforts went in vain to see the revival of long billed vulture (LBV) in the hillocks of Ramanagara, here is some good news. Not just the LBV number has increased from tiny five to six, the hatchling, now three months old, is all set to stretch its wings and make its first flight from the crevices of the Ramadevarabetta Vulture Sanctuary in a week.

Officials of the Karnataka Forest Department, who are keeping a close watch on the vultures from a safe distance, are keeping their fingers crossed that nothing untoward happens.

"We were losing all hope. But the sight of the hatchling and it now being three months old is positive news. By doing nothing, keeping people away and protecting the area has helped. Ramanagara is symbolic and it highlights the importance of vultures," Principal Chief Conservator of Forests, Wildlife, Vijay Kumar Gogi told The New Sunday Express.

While experts said there were six to seven LBVs in 2019-20, the department in 2022 was able to capture four LBVs in one frame just before the egg hatched. There are also 10-12 Egyptian vultures roosting in the hillocks. To ensure that the vultures are undisturbed, the forest department has restricted the movement of people to a temple at the hillock. They have also closed the trekking route for even keen wildlife enthusiasts. The staffers are using telescopes and viewfinders to keep a constant watch on the vultures and more so the hatchling.

"The hatchling is gaining strength to fly. Its daily growth is the victory of our patience and perseverance. We hope to see and capture the first flight of the hatchling this week. As a safety measure, we have prohibited the use of drones around the hillock. To help feed LBVs, we kept a skinned carcass of a goat. But Egyptians vultures fed and not LBVs. We have noted that the parents take turn to feed and protect the hatchling," said Devaraju V, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Ramanagara.

To help increase the vulture population like in Gujarat, the Karnataka Forest Department too is working on creating a breeding centre at the Bannerghatta Biological Park Rescue Centre. The idea of creating such a centre on the foothills of Ramanagara was stalled. For setting up the centre, permission from the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is not required. The only criterion is that there should not be any poultry farm around.

EDUCATING YOUTH

Shining 'Sitara' awarded for Kanglish content for students

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

'KANGLISH' content on YouTube through Akkas and Annas, developed by a team of nine engineering students from PES College in Bengaluru has come as a blessing to children from 27 districts in Karnataka. On Saturday, the team 'Sitara', which has developed content to teach Maths and Science to Class 10 students, has won the 6th Edition of Azim Premji University's National Level Science Enterprise Idea Challenge in which 100 teams across the country participated.

Speaking to TNSE, Shriya Shankar, one of the three members of the team, who pitched their idea, said, "In 2019 we went to remand homes in the State and found gap in education. We realised that there were many online content creating videos but there was no personal touch in them, especially the local language. We worked for one year with those children across the State".

The team then decided to leverage content on YouTube and WhatsApp since these are the most accessible platforms. "We deliver Kanglish lessons taught by Akkas and Annas and provide services via WhatsApp. We have 12,900 children on our Youtube channel and have spent more than 42,000 hours learning from our content. We have more than 31 per cent interaction with us personally," she explained.

Team of engineering students who develop the content for Maths and Science

The trio-Ananya V, Shriya Shankar and Srushti Jayaramu-- who will be graduating in the next one and half months will quit their careers in engineering and continue full time with 'Sitara'.

Srushti tells TNSE, "The children's hunger to learn motivated me, and pushed me to work harder." The content has been appreciated and well received. Anxious students were calling and texting before the Class 10 board exams amid the pandemic. "We helped them reduce their anxiety," added Shriya.

Speaking on the aspect of personal satisfaction and appreciation for their work, Ananya V says, "I used to work with a Class 6 girl from an ashram in Bengaluru, who was shy to speak in front of others. But on Sitara's one year anniversary she went up on stage and spoke about her experience with us. It showed that we are not only focusing on education but also building relationships and instilling confidence among the students".

The content is recorded at a studio which has been given out on good-will, and the team has also managed to get 60 per cent grant needed this year. A business model has been worked out and the team will continue to create content for first and second PUC students in Maths and Science, strengthen their WhatsApp service and reduce percentage of unsuccessful candidates in Karnataka.

HOT, HOTTER BUT NO HEAT WAVE YET

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

MANY parts of India are searing in the heat wave condition. While many districts of Karnataka are recording maximum temperatures 3-4 degrees Celsius above normal, weathermen state there is no heat wave.

Bengaluru on Friday (April 29) recorded a maximum of 36.7 degrees Celsius. According to officials from India Meteorological Department (IMD), for Bengaluru, this is the highest temperature in April, this year.

On Friday HAL Airport and Kempegowda International Airport had recorded maximums of 36.5 and 36.8 degrees Celsius, respectively. The maximum ever recorded in Bengaluru has been 39.2 degrees Celsius on April 25, 2016. On April 1, 2021 the city had recorded a maximum of 37.2 degrees Celsius.

On April 30, 2022, the maximum temperature in Bengaluru city was 34.8. At HAL and international airports it was 35 and 35.3 degrees Celsius, respectively.

IMD officials said: "There is no heat wave threat as most parts of Karnataka experienced periodic scattered rainfall. This rain is because of local conventions which does not drastically reduce the temperatures but helps in bringing it to near normal."

Citing the example of Chennai, the official said that the temperature soars to 39 degrees Celsius in the afternoon, but the sea breeze helps. In Bengaluru, as the temperature crosses 35 degrees Celsius, it becomes uncomfortable because of the increased concretisation and lack of green cover. The green house gas emissions are so high that they are forming an envelope and not helping the long wave radiation from the Earth's surface. Due to this, the minimum temperatures are also high by 1.1 degrees Celsius.

Low affordability, poor access problems in healthcare: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

INDIA presents a unique problem of poor access, low affordability and high variation in quality in terms of healthcare, Union Minister of State for Health and Family Welfare Dr Bharati Pravin Pawar said on Saturday.

Speaking at the 24th convocation of the Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences in Bengaluru on Saturday, she said that despite numerous successes for the healthcare system, access to healthcare is still inadequate. "With the advantage of having the largest number of medical colleges, we can reach standards of education to meet the healthcare needs of the country. We have ensured that admission opportunities for post graduation match with the number of students who pass UG courses," she said.

She said India aims to strengthen primary, secondary and tertiary healthcare. Over 43,800 students were conferred their degrees on Saturday. Three were conferred honorary doctorates.

'KIDS' JAB, BOOSTER DOSE, CAB WILL HELP AVOID LOCKDOWN'

CHETANA BELAGERE

WITH the fear of Covid fourth wave looming large and Covid numbers increasing slowly in the state, Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar speaks to The New Sunday Express on the state's preparedness to handle the next wave. Stressing on the importance of vaccination, he says, "We may not need a lockdown in this wave if people take the precautionary dose and children vaccine coverage is good." Excerpts:

Is the state prepared for the fourth wave?

Vaccination is the only weapon we have to fight Covid. Karnataka has administered 10,61,57,160 doses of vaccine as of April 29, 2022 and majority of the 18-plus population have received their second dose. The vaccination for other categories, that is 12-14 and 15-17, is going on well. But it is disappointing that people are not turning up for the precautionary dose. This is probably because people have become complacent and negligent as the third wave didn't cause much hospitalisation or casualties as compared to the two previous waves despite a higher case load. This was only because of our vaccination efforts. It is to be noted, however, that immunity wanes after a certain period, and the precautionary dose adds another layer of protection by boosting the immune system. Also, all the infrastructure augmented in the previous waves will be used to manage the situation if at all it is needed.

Considering that sub-lineages of omicron are in cir-

SUNDAY INTERVIEW

From January 1, 2022 till April 29, 2022, genomic sequencing has been done for 6,099 samples in our state. Of this, no Alpha and Beta variants have been identified, while 596 (9.8 per cent) cases of Delta and its sub-lineages have been identified. A total of 147 variants of ETA, Kappa and Pango variants have also been detected. However, 5,356 omicron cases have been identified

culation, we are expected to see a similar high number of cases like in the previous wave. Will there be a lockdown? The current situation does not warrant a lockdown. The purpose of a lockdown is to curb the spread of the virus so that the number of infections does not overwhelm the health infrastructure. Also, earlier lockdowns were enforced to break the chain when there were already a high number of cases. As we saw in the third wave, though the number of cases was high, there were not many hospitalisations or casualties. Delhi is already witnessing a spike, but out of 4,002 cases, only 139 needed hospitalisation. This we believe is because of high rate of vaccination in our country. If there is no risk of our health infrastructure getting overwhelmed, then there is no need for a lockdown.

This wave is expected to peak after June and continue till October, which is a critical time for schools. Will schools again shift to online mode?

As of now, there is no such proposal. Even Education Minister BC Nagesh clarified that there will be no closure of schools. Closing of schools will be considered if the total positivity rate breaches 5 per cent.

Are we able to sequence enough samples? Have we found any new lineages?

We are sending samples for genomic sequencing as per the guidelines of ICMR and Union Health Ministry. From January 1, 2022 till April 29, 2022, genomic sequencing has been done for 6,099 samples in our state. Of this, no Alpha and Beta variants have been identified, while 596 (9.8 per cent) cases of Delta and its sub-lineages have been identified. A total of 147 variants of ETA, Kappa and Pango variants have also been detected. However, 5,356 omicron cases have been identified in the samples accounting for 87.8 per cent. Within the omicron variant, BA2 accounts for the greatest number of cases with 4,317 (80.6 per cent), BA1.1.529 accounts for 943 (17.6 per cent) and BA1.96 (1.8 per cent).

How do you plan to vaccinate children at school? Will it not be tough to convince parents?

Officials have been directed to test 5,000 kids between the age of 5 and 11 across the state as they are not yet eligible for vaccination yet. However, the vaccination for this category is expected to start soon with Corbevax. I don't think it will be difficult to convince parents as everyone has realised that vaccines are the most effective way to protect ourselves from the virus. I urge all parents to get their kids vaccinated at the earliest. Studies have proven that these vaccines are absolutely safe.

After the third wave, the state was slowly limping back to normal. Now with the threat of the fourth wave, how do you intend to shift gears without affecting livelihoods?

There is no option but to learn to live with the virus. However, we certainly can manage it and not let it affect our lives. I can't stress this enough, you should get vaccinated with all the doses of vaccine you are eligible for. Additionally, one must follow Covid-appropriate behaviour, hand hygiene and maintain physical distance in public spaces. These are the only ways to ensure normalcy.

Sudhakar meets acid attack victim, promises ₹5 lakh

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

THE abominable acid attack on the 24-year-old woman in Bengaluru has left her with one-third of both sides of her body including her face with severe third degree burns, plastic surgery experts said.

Health minister Dr K Sudhakar met the victim on Saturday morning, and said that her condition is critical. It might take at least 15 days before she is out of danger, and would at least take two to three months for recovery, he added.

The government will take care of her long-term treatment expenditure including her plastic surgery, he said.

Experts said that her face, including parts of her lips, nose, upper limb, trunk, thighs are burnt. Even if she survives, she will require multiple surgeries which might prolong her treatment for many years and it is not possible to restore her disfigured face. Meanwhile, FSL reports are awaited as to ascertain the chemical which was used by the accused.

Dr Sudhakar said, "In case of an acid attack, usually there would be 10 per cent to 15 per cent burn injuries, but in this case she has suffered 35 per cent burns. In such incidents, the public should immediately pour water to reduce the intensity of the burns".

"I have met the victim in ICU and have tried to build her confidence by talking to her as a doctor. I have discussed with plastic surgeons of St John's Hospital Dr Sunderraj Ellur and Dr Abha Rani Kujur who are treating her. Head of the department of plastic surgery of Bengaluru Medical College Dr Smitha S Segu who accompanied us has also examined her," he said.

He announced that he has decided to personally contribute Rs 5 lakh to the victim, and said that the government is committed to provide complete support during her rehabilitation and a government job.

The government will take stringent action against the culprit, and the accused will be arrested soon, he said.

It is necessary to take up the case swiftly in a fast track court and punish him at the earliest, and give justice to the victim, he said. He would request Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to appoint a special public prosecutor in the case, he added.

6 held for killing youth, dumping body on tracks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

SIX people have been arrested on charges of killing a 24-year-old TV showroom employee and later dumping his body on railway tracks near Kengeri. Investigations into the murder has revealed that it was a case of revenge killing.

The victim and the accused had an argument over road rage while they had gone to see Karaga in Kengeri. As two of the accused had enmity with the victim and his friend, they had seized the opportunity and committed the murder.

The victim has been identified as Bharath. He was killed in the wee hours of April 24. The victim and his friends had gone to watch Karaga in the night. All of them were under the influence of alcohol. A scooter touched the victim and his friend Sharath which led to a fight and the murder of the former.

"Sharath had gone to jail for killing Gowrish who was the close friend of accused number one in Bharath's murder. The victim had also posted a derogatory WhatsApp status about another friend of the same accused number one. Taking advantage of the road rage case, all the six accused attacked and murdered Bharath, while Sharath had managed to escape," said an officer on part of investigations.

COVID BYTES

KARNATAKA TO SCREEN FLYERS FROM JAPAN, THAILAND FOR COVID-19

BENGALURU : In view of the recent spurt of Covid-19 cases in eight countries, the health department has come up with a new circular on Covid-19 screening, surveillance and tele-monitoring of those arriving at Bengaluru international airport from Thailand and Japan which have direct flight services, and also at the respective districts of those international passengers. As per the circular, those arriving from these two countries should undergo thermal screening upon arrival. Testing through RTP-CR would be done for the symptomatic at the airport lab and samples of those found positive would be sent for genome sequencing. Further treatment and management of the Covid patient should be followed as per the State protocol.

PSI RECRUITMENT

A FALL FROM THE GLORIOUS DAYS OF YORE...

POLICE, a highly hierarchical and uniformed force, is best run by its lowest functionaries. A constable, for instance, is better known in his village than perhaps the district Superintendent of Police (SP), who is an Indian Police Service (IPS) officer - a regular recruit or promoted from State service.

In a scenario where the ratio of police personnel per lakh persons is 195.39 as per sanctioned strength and 155.78 as per actual strength (Bureau of Police Research & Development (BPR&D) report on January 1, 2020) the post of police sub-inspector (PSI) is not only very important, it is also highly coveted and seen as a lifetime achievement by many.

One of the most enduring reasons for Indians' obsession with the police is the uniform and the power that comes with it. Hence, it is no surprise that when it comes to their family member applying for a PSI's post, a family is often 'waylaid' to sell their meagre assets including land to 'pay' for their kin's way to khaki. Touts and agents thrive on this weakness on which corruption in government recruitment survives. The PSI recruitment scam that has rocked the BJP government in Karnataka is a replay of many such recruitment scams in the past despite strong resistance and roadblocks created by some officers, who wanted to straighten the curve, and they did.

At one point, in the late 90s and mid-2000, the Karnataka model of police recruitment was among the best in India. It was upheld by many other states and was also awarded the ISO certification, "though getting a certificate was not our goal. What we wanted and ensured was that the right candidates got into the police force on the basis of merit through a transparent recruitment process," says former director general and inspector general of police Ajai Singh, who headed recruitment as the Additional Director General of Police (ADGP) between 1998 and 2001.

He attributes the success of holding fool-proof police recruitment to intra- and inter-departmental co-operation, which allowed them to make appropriate changes in the process to prevent manipulation.

"We had got the marks for viva (oral interview) reduced from 50 marks (under then police recruitment rules) to seven and a half (under general recruitment rules) to prevent possible manipulation, and for this, the then home secretary MB Prakash helped us in amending the police recruitment rules. Everybody on the interview board was free to question the marks given by a panelist to candidates for viva," he says.

Other measures included the codification of answer sheets for essay and translation paper to conceal the identity of the candidates from the examiners. The answers to the multiple choice questions, which was an OMR sheet in triplicate, were announced the same evening of the exam, shared with the press and put up on the notice board. One of the sheets was given to the candidate.

"After the last interview, the selection list was declared in two days' time. In the meanwhile, we invited officers from the Social Welfare Department to verify if the reservation policy has been properly implemented in the recruitment," recalled the former top cop, who was the chairman of the recruitment board, with the incumbent DG&GP Praveen Sood, then deputy inspector general of police (DIGP), recruitment, as its secretary, and three IAS officers as members of the board.

"Some candidates did go to Karnataka Administrative Tribunal (KAT). Sood, and subsequently, the then DIG, Recruitment, PK Sandhu (presently, DGP, Criminal Investigation Department) handled the legal cases deftly," he said.

Regarding political pressure in recruitment, during Singh's days there were innumerable calls from elected representatives and bureaucrats to favour their candidates, but none from the then Chief Minister SM Krishna or his office. "I used to receive several calls from politicians and bureaucrats, but never noted down any roll numbers. On the examination day, I would address the candidates and tell them that we have received calls on their behalf but nothing other than their performance would work and that they should concentrate on their exams alone. We also issued press releases that the police recruitment was transparent and no influence would work," recalls Singh.

Karnataka police recruitment was at one point, a "model of best practices. We were invited by some other states to help them with their PSI recruitment," says former DGP Guruprasad, who was ADGP, recruitment between June 2006 and February 2009. Former Director General and Inspector General of Police, ST Ramesh, who was ADGP, Recruitment & Training, between 2009 and 2010, says although "the recruiting officer comes under tremendous pressure from current and former legislators, ministers, chief ministers, civil servants and even friends and relatives, resisting it at the risk of one's career is the name of the game." In the wake of the scam, which has brought all the 545 PSI recruits under scanner, the government has annulled the recruitment process. It is injustice to hundreds of those candidates, who may have burnt the midnight oil and worked hard to crack it. The responsibility to restore the glory of PSI recruitment in Karnataka lies in the hands of those, who are in position of authority and can redeem it to its glory.

"Any kind of pressure, including political, cannot be an alibi for malpractice compromising the system. The way forward is to follow the rules," said Singh.

Divya gives info, nine more nabbed in PSI scam

MANJU SHETTAR @Bengaluru

A DAY after the arrest of the prime accused Divya Hagaragi, Criminal Investigation Department (CID) sleuths on Saturday arrested nine more from High Grounds police station limits in connection with the PSI Common Entrance Test (CET) scam.

Based on the information by Hagaragi, the nine persons were arrested, a senior CID officer said. A case has been registered with the High Grounds police station.

Probe teams, verifying the OMR sheets of students, who had appeared for the exam, had been summoning 15-20 students everyday, and they have been cooperating. After interrogation, the identities of the arrested will be revealed soon, the officer said.

The State government on Saturday issued an official order annulling the PSI exam and ordered a reexamination.

Aspirants protest against reexamination

Hundred of aspirants who wrote the PSI exam staged a protest at Freedom Park against reexamination. They demanded immediate action against those involved in malpractice, and the government should not harass the genuine candidates who passed the exams. The government should check the CCTV camera footage to identify the honest students, they said. An aspirant said that they are not ready to take the stress of the examination again.

'DKS can't withstand if I make administration tough'

ENS @New Delhi

"DK Shivakumar (KPCC president) is finding it uncomfortable when I am running a simple administration. He is not able to withstand it if I turn the administration tough," Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said here on Saturday.

Bommai was speaking to the media after attending a conference of chief ministers and chief justices of all states.

Reacting to Shivakumar's statements on irregularities in the PSI recruitment exam, Bommai said, "He is feeling uncomfortable under my administration. He is trying all his tricks and not succeeding."

Bommai said there is a system to conduct the investigation. It will proceed as per law. "If you do not have the guts to face it, you should not try to mislead. Whatever information you are talking about, we have only requested them to furnish for the investigation. There is no need to make it a big issue. Those whose names

Siddu calls BJP govt most corrupt, wants Araga to resign

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

CONGRESS Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah on Saturday hit out at the BJP-ruled State Government over the PSI recruitment scam by calling it the "most corrupt government." Addressing the media here, the former CM also demanded the resignation of Karnataka Home Minister Araga Jnanendra.

This statement of Siddaramaiah comes a day after the Karnataka government announced its decision to annul the alleged scam-tainted examination held to recruit 545 police sub-inspectors in the state and hold re-exams. "The Home Minister has no moral right to continue in the Cabinet. How can corruption take place without the knowledge of the State Government?" the Badami MLA thundered.

He welcomed the decision of the government to conduct the re-exam. Taking to Twitter, Siddaramaiah, seeking CM Basavaraj Bommai's clarification on the decision taken by the government to re-conduct the exam, asked, "Has it been proven in the CID probe? If Yes, why has the government not released the report yet?" "Is the decision to re-conduct the exam an attempt to ensure justice to honest candidates? Or an attempt to save the big brains behind the scam?" he asked.

FORMER DG & IGP ST RAMESH:

The process in PSI recruitment involves a large number of support personnel. A single mistake can taint the entire process. On the other hand, there are 'coaching shops' that attract desperate candidates. Huge sums of money are collected under the false promise of access to question papers by professional scamsters, who, when required, also raise the bogey of 'paper leak' to sabotage the process.

RAGHAVENDRA AURADKAR, FORMER DGP, WHO WAS ADGP, RECRUITMENT, FROM JAN 1, 2015 TO MAY 30, 2019:

"A slew of measures that were taken in early 2000 by my predecessors had made the police recruitment robust and the department had earned the trust of the public and politicians. Ninety percent of the politicians would recommend their candidates but would tell us to do what is best for the police force. Karnataka police recruitment was mentioned as one of the best recruitment processes in the country in the smart policing project of the Prime Minister in 2017."

(The Auradkar Committee Report on the anomalies in pay and allowances of police personnel submitted in 2016 had highlighted delayed recruitment as one of the main reasons for stress among policemen)

Soon, an app to help genuine pensioners

AMRIT MAHOTSAV

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

To mark the country's 75th year of Independence, the Kannada and Culture Department is organising events under the theme 'Amrita Bharatige Kannada Arati' in four revenue divisions of the state. After 'ratha yatras' and cultural events in every district headquarters, a grand finale will be held in Bengaluru on August 10, 11 and 12. On May 28, processions will be held in 75 places along with lectures, exhibitions and screening of a documentary. Between June 15 and June 30, 'Horatada neladalli ondu dina' (A day at a place of freedom struggle) will be organised at 15 places. Between August 1 and August 8, ratha yatras will be carried out.

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai will launch the 'Hello revenue minister' helpline soon to help genuine beneficiaries get pension, said Revenue Minister R Ashoka here on Saturday.

He listed out the achievements of his department in checking corruption by making use of technology and said it has caught the eye of Niti Aayog too.

"We have saved Rs 430 crore to the state's exchequer by omitting 3.58 lakh bogus pensioners by using the Aadhar-linked Navodaya app," he said.

If any genuine beneficiary calls the six-digit helpline, the petition will go to the mobile phone of the village accountant concerned, who will visit the beneficiary and assess whether he/she is eligible. If the deputy tahsildar gives an approval, within 72 hours the case will be disposed of, he explained.

"Since there are no village accountants in Bengaluru, private agencies that quote less for the service will be given the job," he added.

Under the Svavalmabhi scheme, citizens can generate 11E or Phodi or pre-conversion sketches of his/her private land by applying online. The will be done in 10-15 days, he clarified.

He said all villages will have graveyards within a year and land will be acquired for those that do not have one. Over 3,700 hamlets, such as Kurubara hatti and Lambani tanda will be identified as revenue villages to allow them to get government facilities, he declared.

The Revenue Department will introduce changes in Section 95 of the Karnataka Land Revenue Act, 1964 and permit self-declaration to allow conversion of land.

Hubballi toy train with Joshi, Shettar derails on inaugural run

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hubballi

THE toy train in Hubballi's Mahatma Gandhi Park carrying Union Minister Pralhad Joshi, former chief minister Jagadish Shettar and a host of BJP workers derailed on its inaugural run casting doubts over the safety of the much-awaited project. No one was injured in the mishap. According to sources, overcrowding of the three-coach train is suspected to have caused the derailment.

On Saturday, the redeveloped Mahatma Gandhi Garden, Indira Glass House, toy train, musical fountains and a newly built puzzle parking facility constructed at a cost of ₹25 crore were inaugurated. According to an official, ₹4.2 crore was spent on redesigning the coaches of the train and to replace the old tracks. In the past, there was a similar mishap and since then the service was stopped.

A train operator told TNSE that each coach can carry a maximum of six children. But during the inaugural run, Joshi, Shettar, Deputy Commissioner Nitesh Patil and about 15 supporters of the two politicians were on the train. "We even cautioned them of the overloading," said another staffer. The overloaded train derailed along a curve.

After getting off the train, Joshi took the officials to task. Asking them to give priority to safety and security, he said, the officials should ensure that such mishaps do not occur in the future. Meanwhile, a senior Hubballi-Dharwad Smart City Ltd official said, "The actual reason for the derailment will be identified. The train will be thrown open for the public soon."

T'gana in dark amid coal crunch

Hyd not spared; Students suffer in exam season

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

AS several states in the country are witnessing the severe electricity shortage during the extreme heatwave conditions combined with acute coal shortages, the power cuts have begun in the state. Several areas in the city as well as districts in Telangana have reported irregular power cuts on Saturday.

Parents and students of SSC and Intermediate are worried a lot as their annual exams are around the corner as their studies are being disrupted due to undeclared power cuts during the evening hours.

The irregular power cuts across the state have spelled a nightmare as temperatures are rising above 40 degree Celsius. Multiple towns and cities in the states are witnessing long power cuts. Moreover, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) predicted the heatwave to continue, spurring high electricity demand. The power demand has shot up in the city, as the temperatures have been on the rise during the last few days.

Sai Krishna of Balkampet who is appearing for inter exam said that there has been sudden power cuts leading to disruption of studies and requested the government to see that there were no power cuts during the examination time. Residents in Hyderabad are complaining of sudden power cuts. Even though there are complaints regarding power cuts in Hyderabad, TSSPCL has been saying that they were pre-scheduled power cuts to carry out some maintenance works.

Officials stated that there might be some breakdowns.

Kids given better education to find jobs elsewhere

THE two reel life sequels of the KGF movies have earned in crores (the recently released KGF Chapter 2 alone crossing Rs 1,000 crore), but people in the real KGF, despite good education, struggle to get lucrative jobs in their own region.

Most of the households in Kolar Gold Fields (KGF) reflect and echo Palani's story. Every day, people in thousands travel from their homes in KGF (with a population of about 2.5 lakh) to Bengaluru. Most of them work as bank managers, advocates, software engineers, accountants, supervisors, human resources professionals, besides many among them working at BHEL, HAL, Railway Coach Factory and other industries in Bengaluru.

After BGML shut in 2001, thousands of workers were rendered jobless in KGF. The only big industry present there is Bharat Earth Movers Limited

ed (BEML), which employs people from outside of KGF, but not locals. This has forced the local population to give better education to their children so they can move out in search of lucrative opportunities. Almost all prefer to return to their home in "Little England" even if they have to travel long distances. At the tiny houses with sheet roofs at West Gilbert Block in KGF — which were constructed as quarters for labourers — elderly people including those who used to work with BGML once upon a time, stay at home, while their children work in Bengaluru.

Karunakaran, a retired labourer of BGML, has two children. While the son has completed MSc in Biotechnology, daughter has done BE. Both work in Bengaluru. "During the lockdown, they worked from home," he says.

His neighbour Ravikumar says there are at least 100 houses in West Gilbert Block, each with at least two to three graduates and postgraduates. Some houses even have five.

"After BGML shut, we only have BEML, which has people across the country working there. We need industries here. KGF is like Kerala, we not just stress on literacy, but aim at higher education," he added.

The couple, Sarangapani and Sheela, have two daughters. Both studied well, became double graduates — one even working at Kendriya Vidyalaya teaching high school students. "Daughters or sons, it does not matter. What matters is good education," Sheela says.

The KGF residents pray that the state government brings their home region under the scanner to invite industries to set up shop there so their much-qualified children can get lucrative jobs within easier reach.

KGF HISTORY

The history of gold mines at KGF dates back to the Chola dynasty (3 BC). A few Chola inscriptions and scriptures mention mining activities. Later, during Vijayanagar dynasty, 1336 to 1646, mining was done. But it was during Tipu Sultan's time (1750 to 1799) that an attempt was made with French geologists' help to extract gold from the Kolar pits. After Tipu's death, British Captain Warren learnt about gold here. Systematic excavation began only in 1880 with John Taylor and Sons for the next 60 years. Post-Independence, the government of India decided to nationalise all mines, but KGF was handed over to the Mysuru government in 1956. Since then, it is has provided over 900 tonnes of gold. In 1972, it became Bharat Gold Mines Limited, a public sector undertaking under the Ministry of Mines. Over time, gold reserves started declining and in March 2001, it was shut. There were over 30,000 workers working there in its heyday, but only 3,500 when it shut in 2001. KGF is one of the deepest mines in the world, at a depth of 3,000 metres. The mines were also pledged to the World Bank as security for a loan under Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's tenure.

Heat is up: Coal production raised

SECL ups daily production to 4.50L tonnes after ministry directive

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

WITH the country staring a power crisis triggered by short supply of coal at a time when the mercury is breaking all records, it's time for Coal India to face the heat. The Chhattisgarh-based South Eastern Coalfield Limited (SECL), an undertaking of Coal India Limited (CIL), is being pushed to substantially enhance its daily output urgently.

The daily production and supply by the SECL has increased by 1.25 lakh tonnes and now stands at 4.50 lakh tonnes. SECL claimed that it has 16 million tonnes of coal available at the reserve stock for its customers.

CIL, which is the country's largest coal producer and supplier, had earlier claimed that it had raised its supplies to coal-fired thermal power stations by 14.2% during the first half of April this year compared to the same period last April. The PSU had ramped up its production to 26.4 MT during the first half of April, registering a year-on-year growth of 27%.

However, with April this year witnessing an unprecedented heat wave across India, power demands, too, have surged to record levels and the reserve stocks at thermal stations in states are fast depleting. On Friday, the railway ministry took the extraordinary step of cancelling over 700 passenger trains so as to expedite the movement of coal wagons to thermal plants. "We are now sending a mini-sum of 45 rakes loaded with coal per day to mitigate the demand crisis. And this year, the SECL has been assigned a new annual target of 182 million tons, which is going to be highest by any Coal India subsidiary in the country," Sanish Chandra, public relation officer of SECL, said.

Besides Chhattisgarh, SECL supplies coal to power plants in Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Gujarat, Rajasthan and Maharashtra.

CIL Chairman Pramod Agrawal on Saturday arrived at SECL headquarters at Bilaspur to review the issues related to production and dispatch of coal. "With better planning and quick decision capacity, we can enhance our work production to meet the exceptions of the country," Agrawal said.

Europe trip: 25 engagements lined up in three days for PM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will embark on a three-day multi-country journey on May 2, his first visit abroad this year. He has 25 hectic engagements on his itinerary. He will be spending around 65 hours meeting world leaders and interacting with members of the Indian diaspora, government sources said on Saturday.

Modi will hold meetings, bilateral as well as multilateral, with eight world leaders from seven countries besides having interactions with 50 global business leaders.

Modi is travelling to Germany, Denmark and France amid the Ukraine crisis, which has united much of Europe against Russia. The PM will first travel to Germany, then Denmark and will have a brief stopover in Paris on his return journey on May 4.

Modi will be spending one night each in Germany and Denmark and two nights in flight. In Paris, he will hold talks with French President Emmanuel Macron, who was re-elected in a fiercely-fought presidential election.

In Berlin, Modi will hold bilateral talks with Federal Chancellor Olaf Scholz and the two leaders will co-chair the sixth edition of the India-Germany Inter-Governmental Consultations, the Ministry of External Affairs said.

The biennial IGC is a unique dialogue format that also sees participation of several ministers from both sides. This will be Modi's first IGC with Chancellor Scholz, and also the first such government-to-government consultation of the new German government, which assumed office in December. Modi and Scholz will also address a business event and the PM will interact with the Indian community in Germany.

Expect above normal rainfall next month

May will most likely bring above-normal average rainfall, especially over south peninsular and Northeast region, weather office Director General Mrutyunjay said

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AFTER March, April has broken a 122-year record of heat. There seems to be no respite, as the India Meteorological Department (IMD) says temperatures in May will remain above normal in central and north-west India.

The average maximum temperature in April was 35.9 degrees Celsius in northwest India. This is over three degrees Celsius above the normal average temperature. Meanwhile, central India recorded an average maximum temperature of 37.78 degrees Celsius, beating the 37.75 degrees recorded in April 1973, the IMD Director General M Mohapatra said.

The heatwave is far from over. In its monthly outlook for May, the weather office said above normal minimum temperatures are likely over most parts of west-central and northwest India and northern parts of northeast India. During the month, above-normal minimum temperatures are likely over most parts of northwest, central, east and northeast India. People living in parts of Punjab, Haryana, Chandigarh, Delhi, Rajasthan, and Uttar Pradesh can expect dust storms and thunderstorms between May 2 and May 4.

Ex-judges & babus defend Modi govt, bash critics

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

DAYS after a group of former bureaucrats wrote to Prime Minister Narendra Modi expressing concern over "politics of hate", another set of former judges and bureaucrats slammed them and alleged their letter was a political exercise undertaken periodically to shape public opinion against the ruling dispensation.

In an open letter to the PM on Saturday, 197 eminent signatories — 8 retired judges, 97 retired civil servants and 92 military veterans — describing themselves as "concerned citizens", hit out at the Constitutional Conducts Group (CCG) saying it did not have "sincere motivations" and that its letter was the way to let out its frustration against the public opinion which remained "solidly behind Modi".

Former Sikkim High Court chief justice Permod Kohli, former foreign secretaries Kanwal Sibal and Shashank, and former RAW chief Sanjeev Tripathi were among the 197 signatories.

"Their 'anger and anguish' is not only empty virtue-signaling, they are actually fuelling the politics of hate they seek to combat by attempting to engineer hate against the present government with their patent prejudices and false portrayals," said the 'Concerned Citizens'.

"The CCG should not give ideological cover to anti-national outlook as well as religious and Left Wing Extremism, which they seem to do. These former civil servants should not be orchestrating a false narrative of 'colorable' use of state power." The open letter further stated that the "so-called intellectuals and their backend international lobbies" wanted to halt India's progress.

Questioning the CCG's silence on post-poll violence in West Bengal, the signatories to the open letter said the "studied silence of this so-called CCG on unprecedented post-poll violence in Bengal" reflected their "cynical and unprincipled" approach to issues.

GEN MANOJ PANDE TAKES CHARGE AS ARMY CHIEF

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

GENERAL Manoj Pande, former chief of the Eastern Army Command, took charge as the 29th Chief of the Army Staff on Saturday after incumbent General M M Naravane retired from service. General Pande, who was serving as the vice-chief, became the first officer from the Corps of Engineers to helm the force.

General Pande took charge of the Army at a time India is facing myriad security challenges, including along the borders with China and Pakistan.

On the lines of the theaterisation plan which was being initiated by Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) General Bipin Rawat, General Pande along with his Navy and Air Force counterparts is expected to spearhead major operational and administrative changes by way of the creation of theatre commands for the jointness of the tri-services.

Before taking charge as vice chief of the Army on February 1, General Pande was heading the Eastern Army Command, tasked with guarding the Line of Actual Control (LAC) in Sikkim and Arunachal Pradesh sectors.

General Pande has held several prestigious command and staff assignments in conventional as well as counter-insurgency operations in all types of terrain.

15% calls on NCW helpline are over domestic violence

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE National Commission for Women (NCW) has received over one lakh calls since it launched its round-the-clock helpline number for women in distress in July last year, of which nearly 15% were about domestic abuse.

NCW chairperson Rekha Sharma said, "There was huge traffic of calls during the third Covid wave. We are still seeing continuous increase in calls."

The panel received 1,08,261 calls from women in distress till April 28. Of the total calls, 14.75% were from women facing domestic violence, which included physical, verbal, emotional and financial abuse, Sharma said.

Subsequent Covid lockdowns and the mandate to stay indoors is believed to have led to the spike.

The helpline number was launched in July last year to provide 24-hour toll-free telecom service to women facing harassment and violence and seeking support, information and non-crisis intervention through psychological counselling or referral to appropriate agencies such as police, hospitals, ambulance services and other legal services.

"Considering the urgency in the matters of domestic violence that survivors are confined at homes with their abusers, we launched this WhatsApp number as an emergency response during the lockdown," Sharma said.

The need for a dedicated helpline number was felt after an NCW report last year found that complaints related to domestic violence and cyber-crimes increased by 25 per cent during the first and second Covid lockdowns.

COURT MATTER Plea in SC seeks SIT probe into demolitions in MP's Khargone

NEW DELHI: A petition has been filed in the Supreme Court seeking a court-monitored special investigation team (SIT) headed by a retired judge of the top court for a free and fair investigation into the demolition of properties at Khargone in Madhya Pradesh.

The plea by advocate Adeel Ahmed seeks action under criminal law against the perpetrators of destruction to their lives and properties.

As per the petitioners, the authorities concerned are guilty of negligence and inaction which triggered the violence and targeted the petitioners' businesses, houses and establishments.

"On April 11, 2022, bulldozers, on the orders of the respondents rammed into shops and buildings, most of them owned by the petitioners in Khargone and Sendhwa tehsil, which is an administrative subdivision in MP's Barwani district, the plea stated.

The plea said the houses were razed without any notice or attributing them to any cause or crime.

The petition moved by Razia Mansoori and others sought compensation and reconstruction of the properties and establishments. ENS

Chhattisgarh govt faces tiger authority's ire over felling trees

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Raipur

TAKING cognisance of tree felling related to a coal block without its mandatory approval, the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) sought explanation from the Chhattisgarh government.

Acting on a complaint filed by activist Alok Shukla of Chhattisgarh Bachao Andolan (Organisation fighting for tribal forest rights) on tree felling and coal mining operations related to Parsa coal block in north Chhattisgarh's Hasdeo Arand forest, the NTCA asked the state Chief Wildlife Warden to initiate immediate action and share the factual report in the matter with the authority.

"Tree felling was initiated without mandatory prior approval of the National Board for Wildlife (NBWL) and the NTCA," stated the statutory authority working under the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEF&CC).

"It was owing to strong resistance by local villagers that the tree felling was stopped.

However, according to an official estimate around 300-odd old trees were already chopped off here. The NTCA aside, the Chhattisgarh High Court too made a serious observation in the context.

Ironically, none of the mainstream political parties in the state seems concerned about such a serious issue," said Shukla, convener of Chhattisgarh Bachao Andolan.

Parsa East-Kente Basan block in Chhattisgarh was awarded to Rajasthan Rajya Vidyut Utpadan Nigam Ltd (RRVUNL), where Adani Group has entered into an agreement as Mine Developer-cum-Operator under a deal.

The proposed coal mining operations in Parsa coal block have been facing strong resistance by local tribal communities and environmental activists who informed that a group of people along with the police had reached the area for cutting down trees on April 26 but they had to withdraw after the villagers began agitation.

The Chhattisgarh government had given clearance for the second phase of coal mining in Parsa East-Kanta Basan block following the visit by Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot who urged counterpart Bhupesh Baghel to fast-track coal mining clearances to mitigate the power crisis in Rajasthan. Chhattisgarh and RRVUNL had agreed on second-phase coal mining on 1,136 hectares at Parsa coal block. The Centre has already granted clearance.

Three senior cops transferred over clashes in Patiala, six cases filed

Punjab CM Mann denies communal angle; blames Shiv Sena, BJP and Akalis for incident

HARPREET BAIWA @ Chandigarh

THREE senior police officers were transferred and two more arrests were made on Saturday, in the aftermath of the violent clashes in Patiala that left four persons injured a day earlier. Police had arrested a Shiv Sena leader on Friday, for taking out a march without permission and instigating violence.

The Inspector General of Police (Patiala Range) Rakesh Agrawal, Senior Superintendent of Police Nanak Singh and Superintendent of Police (City) Harpal Singh were transferred by the state government for failure to control the violence. Mukhwinder Singh Chhinna took over as IGP, Deepak Parik as Senior Superintendent of Police and Wazir Singh as Superintendent of Police.

"We have registered six cases

Barinder Singh Parwana, who is known as a Sikh radical, is absconding.

"He is a hardliner. There are four cases registered against him, including one of attempt to murder," the IGP added.

Following improvement in the situation in Patiala on Saturday, mobile, internet and SMS services were restored in the afternoon.

Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann said his government was taking all necessary steps, including confidence-building measures, to create harmony among the residents. "The issue has been resolved," he said. Mann blamed Shiv Sena, BJP and SAD workers for the incident. "It was not a communal clash," he said.

SAD chief Sukhbir Singh Badal responded by claiming the clash was the direct outcome of the politics of confrontation and communal hatred that AAP has been practising in Punjab in recent years. He asked Mann to shun "politics of mindless sensationalism."

A year after debacle, Shah on Bengal revival mission

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

ALMOST a year after the drubbing in the West Bengal Assembly election, the BJP central leadership is on a bid to rejuvenate the party in the eastern state. With this task at hand, Union Home Minister Amit Shah is embarking on a visit to the state on May 4, his first after the 2021 polls.

In the period between the Assembly poll and Shah's visit, several senior leaders have left the party and returned to their hometown TMC. Also, the debacle in the recent Asansol Lok Sabha bypoll has made the BJP central leadership wary of its depleting influence in the state.

Shah's visit is likely to be aimed around preparing the party for the 2024 LS polls and a possible restructuring of the organisation.

Party sources in Delhi said Shah's visit would certainly embolden party cadres and entice the legislators to take on the ruling TMC. "Our party is not in a weak position but what we need is a meticulous plan to expose the tyranny of TMC," said a senior BJP leader, adding that Shah's visit was part of the party's strategy to tear into the TMC on the ground.

The sources added that Shah will stay in the state till May 6 and chair a meeting of party leaders in addition to attending a BSF function of BSF.

"A meeting of party leaders would be held with Amit Shah on May 4 in which the strategy to expose the TMC's appeasement politics may be discussed," a senior party source added.

BJP MP writes to Mamata on jute, gets call to Delhi

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

HOURS after BJP's Barrackpore MP Arjun Singh wrote to Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee opposing the Centre's jute policy and requesting her to intervene in the issue of price cap on raw jute, he was summoned to Delhi on Saturday by the saffron party leadership.

The BJP top brass has asked Singh to meet Union textiles minister Piyush Goyal and discuss the matter. The MP had recently written to Goyal criticising the regulatory body's decision to cap the price of raw jute.

This is the first time in the recent past that a BJP MP is opposing a Central policy and seeking intervention of a chief minister who belongs to an opposition party.

The letter of the BJP MP, who had defected to the saffron camp from Trinamool Congress, is said to be politically significant as Singh is desperate to retain his support base among the jute mill workers in his constituency.

The jute mill workers, who form a considerable chunk of Barrackpore's electorate, had extended their support for Singh in the 2019 Lok Sabha election but the BJP failed to bag the Barrackpore Assembly seat in the 2021 polls.

Besides Mamata, Singh also wrote to the chief ministers of Bihar, Assam and Tripura on the same issue.

"I am requesting you to interfere in this matter with the Union ministry of textiles for saving millions of jute farmers, jute workers and jute industry," Singh wrote to Mamata in his letter on Friday.

Parl berth for BJP leaders not in cabinet?

The buzz is that the ruling BJP will soon begin deliberations to select six candidates for one of the three Rajya Sabha seats in Uttarakhand which will go vacant in July. Names of those candidates who failed to make it to the state cabinet are doing the rounds in power corridors. Most prominent among the names is of state BJP president Madan Kaushik. As insiders maintain he could be a contender, the state party chief deny it. Uttarakhand has total eight seats in the Parliament — five in Lok Sabha and three in Rajya Sabha. More include former CMs Trivedi, Singh Rawat and Vijay Bahuguna, as well as Kailash Gehloti who recently vacated Champawat seat for incumbent CM Pushkar Singh Dhami.

BJP warns state leaders against 'internal sabotage'

Having finalised that Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami will be contesting by-elections from Champawat state assembly constituency, party central leadership has instructed the state leadership to ensure that there should not be any trace of 'internal sabotage'. As per party sources, a strength warning has been issued that there will be consequences. However, Champawat seat remains favourable to the BJP as it was vacated by the party MLA for the chief minister. With BJP concluding that the chief minister lost in the Assembly elections due to factionalism and internal sabotage, the party has decided to 'introspect and analyse' the reasons behind its defeat in 23 seats.

Critic gets bone to pick with 'star' bureaucrat

Social media users have once again gone berserk over a 'flamboyant' senior IAS officer posted as commissioner in one of the two divisions in Uttarakhand. The officer — termed as 'enthusiastic' by fans and a 'YouTuber' by critics — has quite a fan following. In the latest, a critic taunted on social media that someone should remind 'Sir' that he is not a district magistrate anymore but a senior who is holding the position of a commissioner. The post went viral. Earlier too, when the officer was posted as the commissioner, the critic wrote, "Now the region will witness Devanand-like style quotient when it comes to hairstyle." The famous officer remain a favourite with his fans and critics equally.

Priyanka presents 3 options for UP Cong revival

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

AFTER tasting a crushing defeat in the recently concluded Assembly election in Uttar Pradesh, the Congress is weighing three options to strengthen the organisation till grassroots level in the politically crucial state.

As per highly placed sources, AICC general secretary and UP in-charge Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, in consultation with the state leadership, has thrashed out the three options for the revival of the grand old party in the state. She has presented these suggestions before the party national president Sonia Gandhi for her perusal and necessary action.

Significantly the party which ruled Uttar Pradesh till 1989, could win just two seats in the 2022 Assembly poll. The party's performance has been on a downward trajectory since 2012 when it had won 28 seats with 11.63 per cent vote share.

The tally came down to seven with 6.56 per cent vote share in 2017 when it fought the Assembly polls in alliance with Samajwadi Party. In the recently concluded polls, the seat tally came down to two while the vote share fell to 2.33 per cent.

In order to breathe a new lease of life into the party unit in UP, the first option, as per the sources, is the re-constitution of the Congress Committee under the stewardship of a senior leader.

The second option is appointing four-five working presidents under the leadership of the state president who can look after the revival of party organisation. Meanwhile, as per the third op-

Ranas' bail plea order on May 2

MUMBAI: A special court here is likely to decide the bail plea of jailed Independent MP Navneet Rana and her MLA husband Ravi Rana on May 2.

The couple had moved court seeking bail in an FIR registered by Mumbai police under provisions related to sedition and promoting enmity following their plan to recite Hanuman Chalisa outside Maharashtra CM Uddhav Thackeray's private residence here.

On Saturday, both prosecution and defence completed their arguments, after which Special Judge RN Rokade reserved the order for Monday. The bail plea of the legislator couple contended that a call to recite Hanuman Chalisa outside 'Matoshree' can't be said to be calculated to promote feelings of enmity or hatred. Their bail plea also claimed that by no stretch of imagination can the acts of the applicants be stated to constitute the offence of sedition.

Hindu outfits threaten 'mass suicide' over encroachment notice to temple

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

RIGHT-WING activists have threatened to commit "mass suicide" in the wake of a notice issued by the railways to shift a temple from the premises of Raja Ki Mandi Railway Station in Agra.

Divisional Railway Manager (DRM) Anand Swaroop had on April 20 issued a notice to the temple authorities to shift the structure from the railway premises on April 20.

The notice claimed that the temple had to be shifted due to the difficulties faced by railway passengers.

Not only the temple, a nearby mosque and a dargah have also received notices.

Prashasti Srivastava, the divisional commercial manager and public relations officer for the Agra division, however, said encroachments were being removed in compliance of the Supreme Court order. "The notices to the temple, dargah and mosque have been sent as a part of our anti-encroachment drive. They have been given time till May 13 to present their case," she said.

Opposing the notice issued to the temple administration, Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) and Bajrang Dal activists staged a huge protest outside the DRM office in Agra on Friday. They said the "300-year-old temple" would not be shifted at any cost.

According to temple priest Mahant Virendra Anand, he had been the taking care of the shrine since his childhood and his forefathers had also served in the temple.

'No loudspeaker ban in Bihar'

Patna: Ruling allies BJP and JD-U in Bihar are heading for yet another showdown as Chief Minister Nitish Kumar on Saturday asserted that his government would not ban the use of loudspeakers at places of worship in the state. Talking to media on the sidelines of inauguration of the first ethanol production plant in Purnea, Nitish said it was "nonsense" to talk on the loudspeaker ban. "It is known to all in Bihar that we do not interfere in religious practices of any sort. Some people think it is their business to make a fuss and they keep doing it," he said. ENS

Russia shells eastern Ukraine as US slams Putin's 'depravity'

Three bodies with hands tied behind their backs found in a pit near Bucha; Russian strikes in Kharkiv and Donbas region kill one person, injure 12 others

KYIV

UKRAINIAN police on Saturday reported finding three bodies with their hands tied behind their backs as Russia continued shelling the east and Washington slammed Russian President Vladimir Putin's "depravity".

The bodies were found on Friday in a pit near Bucha, a town close to Kyiv that has become synonymous with allegations of Russian war crimes.

"The victims' hands were tied, cloths were covering their eyes and some were gagged. There are traces of torture on the corpses, the Kyiv region police said in a statement on Saturday. All three men had been shot in the ear, it said.

Ukraine also reported that Russian shelling on Kharkiv, the country's second biggest city, and in the eastern Donbas region had killed one person and injured 12 more.

"The situation in the Kharkiv region is tough. But our military, our intelligence, have important tactical success," Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said in his latest televised address.

Ukrainian forces said they had recaptured the village of Ruska Lozova, near Kharkiv, that had been occupied by Russian troops for two months. Hundreds of civilians were evacuated from the area. Thousands have been killed and millions forced to flee their homes since the Russian invasion of its pro-Western neighbour began on February 24.

Meanwhile, Pentagon spokesman John Kirby on Friday briefly choked with emotion as he described the destruction in Ukraine and slammed Putin's "depravity". Ukrainian prosecutors say they have pinpointed more than 8,000 war crimes carried out by Russian troops and are investigating 10 Russian soldiers for suspected atrocities in Bucha. Russia is now intensifying operations in the eastern Donbas region, making some territorial advances, and tightening its stranglehold on Mariupol.

14 Ukrainians freed

Fourteen Ukrainians including a pregnant soldier have been freed in the latest prisoner exchange with Russian forces, Ukraine said on Saturday, without revealing the number of Russians returned to Moscow.

"Today, we carried out a new exchange of prisoners. Fourteen of ours are coming home, seven military and seven civilians. One of the military women is five months pregnant,"

Deputy Prime Minister Iryna Vereshchuk said on Telegram.

In an interview with the BBC on Friday, Vereshchuk accused Russian forces of deporting large numbers of civilians into Russia and using them as "hostages". "That's why they captured all these hostages—civilians, women, employees of local councils, to try and use them," she was quoted as saying. "We know there are more than a thousand hostages there—including almost 500 women," she said, adding that they were being held in prisons and pre-trial detention centres.

She emphasised the difficulty of securing the liberation of women in the exchanges. "Now we refuse to hold an exchange with no women in the list. That is how we try to somehow rescue our women," she said.

Meanwhile, Kyiv has admitted that Russian forces have captured a string of villages in the Donbas region. But a senior NATO official said Russia had made only "minor" and "uneven" advances. AFP

Quit or will lead people to reject politicians: Lanka monks to PM

COLOMBO

SRI LANKA'S powerful Buddhist clergy on Saturday held a key convention here and warned that people would be influenced to reject all politicians if Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa did not resign to make way for an interim government to resolve the political and economic crisis in the country.

Rev Prof Olaganwatte Chandrasiri read out the monks' order after more than 1,000 monks staged a protest march demanding the government to act according to their letter addressed to President Gotabaya Rajapak-sa dated April 4.

"Unless action is taken to empower parliament by pruning the excessive powers of the president, unless the prime minister resigns immediately to make way for an all party interim government, we would be compelled to rally the public to tell them to reject all politicians," the order read out by Chandrasiri stated.

Prof Agalakada Sirisumana, in his address, accused the government of wrong doing since assuming power in 2019. "They destroyed the country by appointing misfits to top positions, appointed retired military officers to head institutions and ruined the institutions, brought 48% of institutions under the control of the Rajapaksas, caused shortages of fuel, sugar, electricity, cement, gas and made people suffer. Only created queues for everything and let people die in queues." "We asked for the resignation of the prime minister and the government and appoint an interim government for a period of one year to let the country run by capable people."

The monks going against the Rajapaksa family assumes much significance as the family had enjoyed their overwhelming support until the current economic crisis. PTI

UK TRIBUNAL FINDINGS

Nehru-Mountbatten letter aspects to stay redacted

LONDON

CERTAIN aspects of the personal diaries and letters involving Lord Mountbatten, the last Viceroy of India, his wife Edwina and India's first Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, at the heart of an appeal to decide whether they can be fully released for open public access, will remain redacted after a UK tribunal ruling.

Judge Sophie Buckley presided over the UK First-Tier Tribunal (Information Rights) appeal to determine the fate of some redacted sections of diaries and correspondence dating back to the 1930s.

The tribunal concluded recently that Southampton University did not "hold" any correspondence entitled 'letters from Lady Mountbatten to Jawaharlal Nehru, the first Prime Minister of the newly independent India (33 files, 1948-60), along with copies of his letters to her' as part of its Broadlands Archive and was only "physically safeguarding the papers" on its premises.

"The information was not owned by the University, and its use was restricted both in contract and in practice to physically safeguarding the papers," the tribunal stated.

Historian Andrew Lownie, who had launched a four-year-long battle for the release of the papers for his book 'The Mount-battens: The Lives and Loves of Dickie and Edwina Mountbatten', described the entire process as a victory that came at a very high cost and believes his fight was on the "crucial principles of censorship and freedom of information".

"It has been a pyrrhic victory. Over 33,000 pages, 99% of an important historical collection, has been released which will be important to future scholars and it has been a victory for free speech and academic freedom, access to archives and against government censorship," said Lownie. The author-historian said even the redacted material in the diaries and letters is likely to be "innocent". "This has simply been a face saving exercise but the withheld Edwina-Nehru correspondence bought at the same time with the same monies will shed fresh light on their relationship, when it began and how it shaped Independence and Partition," he noted.

The UK Cabinet Office had maintained that any withheld aspects "would compromise the UK's relations with other states", with reference to India and Pakistan. PTI

18 trapped after building collapses in China

BEIJING

AT least 18 people were trapped under a building that collapsed in central China, officials said on Saturday, as rescuers pulled apart the rubble brick by brick in an effort to reach survivors.

The eight-storey building, which housed a hotel, apartments and a cinema, caved in on Friday afternoon in Changsha city, Hunan province, leaving a gaping hole in a densely built street front. Another 39 people were uncontactable after the incident, the mayor of Changsha told reporters. It was not clear if authorities believed the people who could not be contacted were also under the rubble. "The situation of the missing persons is being further assessed," mayor Zheng Jianxin said. City authorities are yet to release details of casualties but said five people were rescued from the structure overnight. AFP

RBI report on GDP loss 'belies' FinMin estimates

Looking ahead, India's economic rebound faces multiple challenges

SUNITHA NATTI

IT'S easy to predict backward in time. But when two official statistics on the slack in growth are 180 degrees apart, economics sounds more like the unpredictable quantum physics.

While the Ministry of Finance's dutiful disclosure during the Budget session confirmed an output loss of Rs 9.57 lakh crore in FY21, on Friday, the RBI unloaded some spirit-amputating numbers. It believes, our economic scarring was double than the government's estimate at Rs 19.1 lakh crore. That's Rs 219 crore output loss every hour as against the finance ministry's forecast of Rs 110 crore. There's more.

The government statistics show an economy rounding into health, cracking the pre-pandemic level in FY22, but RBI's under-strappers offered a less palatable truth pegging the output loss at a staggering Rs 17.1 lakh crore last fiscal, with another Rs 16.4 lakh crore likely to be hacked off from real GDP this fiscal. Such annual output haemorrhaging of Rs 10 lakh crore or more will persist for about a decade. And a total economic recovery, if we are to have it, will happen only a full 13 years from now. This, we have it on the highest authority - the central bank itself.

The reason why the government and RBI's estimates vary widely is due to their measuring methods. Disappointing, but finance ministry officials settled for a simple back of the envelope calculation assessing the loss from the previous year output and not factoring in potential growth. For instance, in FY20, real GDP stood at Rs 145 lakh crore, while output contracted by 6.6% to Rs 136 lakh

RBI vs finance ministry estimates

■ Finance ministry during the Budget session confirmed an output loss of ₹9.57 lakh cr in FY21

■ RBI pegged output loss at a staggering ₹17.1 lakh cr last fiscal

■ RBI estimates ₹219 cr output loss every hour as against the finance ministry's forecast of ₹110 cr

■ Reason why the government and RBI's estimates vary widely is due to their measuring methods crore in FY21.

This translates to an output loss of Rs 9.57 lakh crore. "Finance ministry's estimate taking the loss over previous year, is a convenient way of saying that the loss wasn't much and allowed the government to believe that there was not much that needed to be done," Anil K Sood of Ideas Sans Ideology told Express.

On the other hand, RBI assessed the opportunity loss, recreating a growth path using the past trend of 6.6% and then estimating the GDP level assuming a growth of 7.5% for next 13 years, by which point we would have recouped the pandemic-era output losses.

But not everyone agrees.

"Pandemic was a double whammy. It has compromised India's ability to grow further. Therefore, RBI's estimate that India would grow by 7.5% for the next 10+ years and we would be able to recover the opportunity losses is unrealistic, particularly when the government does not seem to recognise that it has a critical role to play in helping households improve their earning capability," Sood reasoned.

RBI's anticipated output losses may not be the final word either as quantifying the permanent loss of output is a challenge. As RBI admits, lessons from past crises reveal the reality of a permanent loss of output, reflected in deep wounds to investment and shortfalls in capital and total factor productivity relative to respective pre-crisis trends. Potential hysteresis effects of the pandemic operating through bankruptcies and capacity destruction are not fully quantified so far and may manifest themselves through balance sheet impairments and depressed new investment demand.

Looking ahead, India's economic rebound faces multiple challenges: deep-rooted structural bottlenecks, the Russia-Ukraine conflict dampening recovery momentum, high commodity prices, weaker global growth outlook, tighter global financial conditions and supply chains issues amplifying business uncertainty. Put simply, India's growth recovery has never been closer and never further away.

As for arriving at the truer figure of the pandemic's economic legacy, we don't know and we may never even know.

Food delivery platform Swiggy all set to start drone trials for grocery service

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE buzz around grocery delivery service has reached new heights, as online food delivery major Swiggy will make use of drones for its grocery service. Swiggy will commence the pilot immediately in two tranches - starting in Bengaluru and Delhi-NCR.

The pilot will be executed with Garuda Aerospace in Bengaluru and Skye Air Mobility in Delhi-NCR. After the learnings from the first tranche, the food delivery firm will commence its tranche 2 along with ANRA, TechEagle Consortia and Marut Dronetech.

Drones will be used to replenish stocks between seller-run dark stores and from a store to a common customer point, Swiggy said, and added that a delivery partner will then pick up orders from the common point and deliver them to the customer's doorstep.

Dark stores are retail distribution centres that cater to online shoppers. Last year, Swiggy had done trials along with ANRA Technologies for the BVLOS (Beyond Visual Line of Sight) experiments.

"Our intent is to use valuable learnings from the first tranche and design a tranche 2 experiment to address any shortcomings that are identified," Swiggy said in a blog post. Based on the pilot and progress, Swiggy will expand it in the region.

Garuda Aerospace said they are extremely delighted to be part of Swiggy's pilot to evaluate the feasibility of drones for its instant grocery service-Instamart.

Drone delivery solves the puzzle of quick commerce, faster delivery in shortest time. With drones delivering groceries from dark stores to residential societies, the companies in the quick commerce space can extend the range of services from current 2 km to 5 km radius ensuring the same delivery time, Ankit Kumar, CEO, Skye Air Mobility, tells ETNE.

The drone delivery start-up CEO adds that a dark store is not optimally utilised which incurs a lot of cost to the quick commerce firms. As dark stores currently only cater to 2 km radius in order to meet 10 minutes delivery time, they move on to create more dark stores to service the consumer. "The challenge they face with more dark stores is less capacity utilisation, higher capex for inventory management and higher overheads. Drone delivery inclusion in the quick commerce industry will help firms to overcome the challenges and build a more sustainable model to service consumers," Kumar says. Swiggy entered the quick commerce grocery category with the launch of Instamart in August 2020. Last year, it announced that it will invest $700 mn in Instamart, which is present in over 21 cities.

As per a RedSeer report, quick commerce has an addressable market opportunity of $50 billion in India, and apart from Zomato, there are other players such as Dunzo and Zepto.

GURBIR SINGH

IN the last few days Ukraine is hurtling towards becoming an international conflict. Russia's shift in invasion objectives from seizing the capital Kyiv to overrunning the Eastern border region of Donbas, has made the war go into a slow-motion that may continue for years. Militarily and financially, the US and NATO have been increasingly drawn into the conflict that may go nuclear; and the world is bracing for the economic reverberations that are to follow.

The Western allies have no boots on the ground, but they are almost there. President Joe Biden, after delivering two lots of $800 million in military aid to Ukraine, has moved Congress for sanction of $33 billion in military, economic and humanitarian support. Germany, which had so far kept out from supplying military equipment to conflict areas, has agreed to send high-tech Gepard anti-aircraft artillery. The British are moving an additional 8,000 troops to frontline NATO countries. Russia has flagged the military gear being moved to Ukraine and promised 'swift retribution'. It has cut off gas supplies to Poland and Bulgaria, and threatened Europe with more fuel sanctions. What started as a limited war to make Ukraine a satellite, buffer-state, has ratcheted up to a full scale European conflict. In the process, it has reunited NATO and even drawn in the non-aligned like Switzerland, Finland and Sweden. The latter two are now pitching for NATO membership, thus creating a 1,300-km Russia-NATO border via Finland.

Paying for Russia's war

On the flip side, NATO has miscalculated the lasting power of the Russians. The slew of economic sanctions, it was thought, would bring Vladimir Putin to sue for truce. In reality, Russia has been preparing for western sanctions for years since it annexed Crimea in 2014. The un-

OIL AND GAS SUPPLY

European Union countries import about a quarter of their oil and about 45% of their gas consumption from Russia. As sanctions kicked in, prices of both oil and gas shot up comfortable truth is Europe, paying for Russian fuel, is bank-rolling Putin's military adventure.

EU countries import a quarter of their oil and 45% of their gas consumption from Russia. As sanctions kicked in, prices of both oil and gas shot up; and so, though import volumes tapered down, Russia made a killing nearly doubling its revenues from export of its fossil fuels.

According to an analysis of cargo movements by the Centre for Research on Energy and Clean Air (CREA), quoted by 'The Guardian', Russia earned about 62 billion pound from exports of oil, gas and coal in the two months since the invasion began. The EU's share in this revenue was 44bn pound over the past two months, compared with 140bn pound for the whole of last year, or roughly 12bn pound a month. This is despite crude oil shipments from Russian ports declining by 30%.

Despite rhetoric of finding alternative energy supplies by Germany and other countries, Europe is still heavily dependent on Russian oil and gas. Germany has been the biggest importer paying 9bn pound for imports during the period. Despite commitments by big oil companies like BP and Shell to exit Russia, data showed these companies continued to service high volumes of old contracts.

The cost of a long war

If revenues continue to flow, what's stopping Russia from continuing its assault on Ukraine? In which case, what will be the long-term cost of the war? As resources are diverted to military budgets and energy prices climb, national growth and family incomes will bear the brunt. A few days ago, the World Trade Organization cut this year's growth forecast to 2.8% from 4.1% before the war, saying the conflict had inflicted "a severe blow" on the world economy.

The US consumer is already reeling from higher energy prices, which are up 20-30%, while shortage of food will hit the rest of the developing world. Ukraine, known as the bread basket of Europe, accounted for 11.5% of the world's wheat output. This year, war has laid waste its entire crop. The World Bank warned this week that the conflict had caused the worst spike in commodity prices in 50 years. For the developing world, rising grain prices in nations afflicted by poverty and poor nutrition, shortage of food and expensive supplies will make it a life-and-death issue for millions.

But the frightening new scenario is that the goals of the war have changed. From a limited conflict to defend Ukraine's sovereignty, the western allies now see the war as one that will trigger a major shift in the balance of power; one that will end with a seriously depleted Russia on the world stage.

US Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin, on his recent visit to Kyiv, defined NATO's long-term target as: "We want to see Russia weakened to the degree that it can't do the kinds of things that it has done in invading Ukraine." The hawkish British foreign secretary Liz Truss said NATO must prepare "for the long haul" and called for the arming of the western Balkan states, non-NATO states Georgia and Moldova to resist Russian "expansionism".

Russia having lost the plot for installing a pro-Moscow regime in Kyiv and being pushed back militarily, is now desperately looking at a face-saving 'victory' in the Donbas. However, if the current indecisive war continues with the depletion of the Russian military machine, the nuclear threat and a full scale conflagration will become real.

BAD LOANS

'14 assets to be taken over by NARC'

MONIKA YADAV

IN the phase one of bad loans resolution by the Bad Bank, as announced by the Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in her Budget 2021-22 speech, fourteen stressed assets worth ₹50,000 crore have been identified to be taken over by the National Asset Reconstruction Company (NARC), as per the Finance Ministry official.

Delays in due diligence, fulfilling of legal formalities and other procedural tasks like the process of calculating the fair value led to the failure in meeting the deadline of March 31, he said. According to him, another two months will be needed by NARC to take over the assets for resolution.

"The due diligence of some of these assets has been done. After this they will be put through SWISS challenge. In case, no bidder gets successful in the challenge, then the asset will be transferred to NARC. This process will take two months," the official said. He stated the fourteen assets belong to both private banks and public sector banks while refusing to disclose the names of these assets.

On the demand for asset sale in the market, the official said, "once we run the process, only then we will get to know about the demand." Meanwhile, on the privatisation of IDBI Bank, the official said, "if the investors show interest then the government may offload its full stake in IDBI in one go."

Kohli 50 but RCB suffer

Ex-skipper's 53-ball 58 in vain as Titans chase down 171 with three balls to spare

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WHEN Royal Challengers Bangalore skipper Faf du Plessis opted to bat against Gujarat Titans, without a doubt, all eyes were on Virat Kohli. After scores of 0, 0 and 9, the anticipation for what's in store only got higher. And it could have come to an end with another duck on the very second delivery as Kohli's foot went nowhere for a full-length outswinger from Mohammed Shami that squared him up. But, he survived.

The next one was too full and a Kohli off-drive followed to get him off the mark. And with Shami struggling to find his line after that, he secured another boundary in the same over. While Du Plessis got out to Pradeep Sangwan, Shami tested Kohli. A sharp bouncer took the top edge for four. Kohli was scoring runs, and it seemed like luck was on his side. Was this going to be the day? It seemed like it when he welcomed Alzarri Joseph with a whip through midwicket, followed by a punch through extra cover for boundaries. He had raced to 24 off 18 balls. But then came the hurdles. In the next 13 balls he faced Kohli managed just nine runs.

While he was struggling to get going, at the other end was Rajat Patidar, who came in as injury replacement for Luvnith Sisodia, playing the T20 format like one should. Right from ball one, Patidar showed intent. His first boundary came off Joseph, punching Sangwan down the ground. He also took Rashid Khan for a maximum, cruising to 25 off 17. And it rubbed off on Kohli as well, as he pulled out his short arm jab against Ferguson and then a loft over point.

After 11 overs, there were 87 for one, there were two contrasting innings being played out. Kohli 45 from 41 while Patidar 40 off 21 balls. It was a perfect chance for both to accelerate. Over the next three overs, both would bring up their first fifties of the season. While Kohli got there in 45 balls, Patidar did in 29. It was not just the strike. There was an innate difference in the way they approached the innings. Patidar got out for a 32-ball 52. At the other end was Kohli, who seemed to be back in a shell, searching for timing. He couldn't hit a boundary off the last 17 balls he faced, before getting out for 58 from 53. Kohli might have got back amongst runs, but it came at a cost. RCB's 170 for six wasn't enough in the end as they faced their third successive defeat, losing to Titans by six wickets.

Brief scores: Royal Challengers Bangalore 170/6 in 20 ovs (Kohli 58, Patidar 52; Sangwan 2/19) lost to Gujarat Titans 174/4 in 19.3 ovs (Tewatia 43 n.o, Miller 39 n.o; Shahbaz 2/26).

Dhoni reappointed CSK skipper

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

ONE of Chennai Super Kings' favourite party tricks is to keep going back to tried and tested ways. Signing (and retaining) multiple players from the auction pool, sacrificing unproven but exciting players for experience and using spin as an attacking weapon, at least in home games. On Saturday night, the four-time champions, in time-honoured fashion, appointed MS Dhoni as skipper for the third time.

Ravindra Jadeja, who was handed the reigns on a permanent basis before this year's edition, decided to step down to focus 'more on his game'. A 44-word statement, released on the franchise's official website, said that Dhoni has accepted to skipper the side in the 'larger interest'.

"Ravindra Jadeja has decided to relinquish captaincy to focus and concentrate more on his game and has requested MS Dhoni to lead CSK," the statement said. "MS Dhoni has accepted to lead CSK in the larger interest and to allow Jadeja to focus on his game."

While the move in itself isn't a surprise — the franchise are ninth in the table and will have to win every game from here on to even stand a chance of progressing — it reflects badly on CSK, usually known for its clear thinking.

In Aldrin's absence, no 8m mark in long jump

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

EVEN before the second edition of the Khelo India University Games kicked off in Bengaluru last month, athletics, as expected, was always going to be a show stopper. There were good reasons for one to be excited as well, with upcoming track and field youngsters like Priyah H Mohan (400m), Jeswin Aldrin (long jump) and Duttee Chand (100m) among others expected presence adding glitter to the competition.

However, when the long jumpers lined up to take the field at the Sree Kanteerava Stadium on Saturday, there was a surprise. Aldrin was not present among the participants. In fact, of the eight participants, only five showed up, and with no Aldrin, who registered a personal best of 8.26m earlier in the month, anyone even coming close to the 8m mark blew up in smoke even before the jumps began.

At the end of the event, Sriram V from SRM University

With an effort of 7.31m, Sriram V won gold in long jump gold on Saturday | SHRIRAM V with a jump of 7.31m clinched gold. Anil Kumar Sahoo and Sreekanth KM finished silver and bronze, respectively, with a jump of 7.27m and 7.26m respectively.

In the men's discus throw, Lovely Professional University's Abhinav created a new meet record with a throw of 54.46m. In the women's competition, Tanuja achieved the same feat with a throw of 47.07. In the 100m sprint, A Vignesh from Mangalore University clocked 10.50s to create a new meet record.

Dutee won gold in the women's 100m with a timing of 11.68. There was another meet record in women's pole vault as Pavithra Venkatesh from Periyar University clearing the 4.01m mark. Karate also made its KIUG debut on Saturday.

Sindhu finish with bronze

ENS @ Chennai

AFTER pocketing the opening game, PV Sindhu had her nose in front in the second against Japan's Akane Yamaguchi in the women's semifinal contest of the ongoing Badminton Asia Championships. However, Sindhu lost the plot after the umpire ruled that the two-time Olympic medallist was taking too much time between points.

Leading 14-11 in the second game, the fourth-seeded Sindhu was forced to concede a point after that controversial call. From Yamaguchi's standpoint, that was just the break that she needed. Visibly unhappy, Sindhu tried to argue her case with the officials but to no avail. More importantly, she had lost her rhythm after that. Yamaguchi, who won the All England Open title earlier this year, took advantage of the same and fought back to win the game and force a decider.
